

Engage with Africa!

The Timothy Project

The Timothy Project links concerned men and women like you with young African leaders and their families as they are trained for local church ministry. Through a strategic partnership between Central African church leadership and Grace Brethren International Missions, you have the opportunity to make a difference in training the next generation of African leaders.

Emerging leaders are selected and sent to Bible School or Seminary by their home churches and districts. Each district is responsible to raise funds to support its students. Since it is not possible to work during the training period, each student also maintains a garden to help support his family. The Timothy Project will provide approximately $\frac{2}{3}$ of the costs of tuition, housing, food and medicine for each student's family.

NOTE: Seminary students require three sponsors per month (a total of $120 month).
